ECHOES OF THE GALLOWS.

WHO CUT THE ROPE THAT LET THE ANARCHISTS DROP?

An Open Question That is Just Now Interesting a Great Many People—The One Who Erected the Scaffold in the Chicago Jail Are Unknown to the Public.

LANSING, Mich., Nov. 23.—Since the Anarchists went to their death in Chicago, there has been considerable inquiry regarding the man who cut the rope. Rumor has connected the work with the names of several parties residing in various parts of the country, but the individual who was apparently the most prominently identified by the public in relation to the case is Mr. C. L.
Pendleton, who lives near Leslie, Mich.

The residents of the town have been suspecting him for some time of being the man who cut the rope, and they believe that he is employed in various cities to hang criminals.
For this reason his neighbors and former associates shun him as they would a leper.
That they are wrong in their suspicion has been proved, but the fact remains that Mr. Pendleton built the scaffold on which the men were hung. A reporter called on him at his home, three miles northwest of Leslie, pleasantly located on one of the most productive farms in central Michigan.

When the object of the visit was stated he entered freely into a conversation relative to the matter. For two years previous to '85 Mr. Pendleton resided in Chicago.
Five years immediately preceding his removal to this state he was in the employ of the city as chief of the fire department, and also had entire supervision of the public building and repairing. It was while serving in the latter capacity that he came into prominence in the criminal record of Chicago. When Sherry and Conroy were executed in '79 for the murder of O'Connell, Pendleton erected the scaffold. When Tracey was throttled several years later for the killing of an officer, Pendleton again built the gallows. In '83 another execution was added to the list. Jacobson, an easily angered character, in an unguarded moment permitted his temper to get the best of him and slew an unfortunate wreath who owed him a dollar. Pendleton again built the gallows.

Succeeding this event the government of the city passed out of the Republican control, and in the administration that followed Pendleton was among the first who ceased to draw revenue from the city coffers. It was then he moved here. When he departed from Cook county Mr. Pendleton thought he had abandoned his former occupation, but his skill was again in demand in the spring of the present year when the three sons of Italy were hanged for murdering a comrade, when Mr. Pendleton built the gallows.
This scaffold was taken apart and placed in the jail basement for future use. November 11 it was again placed in position, but by other hands than Mr. Pendleton's, and the four Anarchists drew their last breath on it. The assertion that he cut the rope in the last great National hanging scene, is positively denied by Pendleton, and that he was at home, and not out of Leslie during the week of the execution is proved.
However, the gentleman ventures the remark that he knows who did cut the cord which held four men on the brink of the grave, but positively refuses to divulge the name, merely volunteering the information that he is not a resident of Michigan.

To Provide for the Destitute Families.
CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—The delegates from twenty-one singing societies, ten turner societies and the Central Labor union met last evening and made arrangements for the entertainment for the benefit of the families of the Anarchists at Battery D, December 10. The program will consist of ten numbers in two parts, besides the athletic entertainment and addresses in English and German. The musical portion will be provided by an orchestra of forty pieces, a chorus of six hundred voices and a few soloists. It was reported that 12,000 tickets are already sold.

HADDOCK MURDER TRIAL.

New Testimony Contradicting Arensdorf's Defense in an Important Particular.

SHOUB CITY, Iowa, Nov. 23.—The first surprise made by the prosecution in the second trial of John Arensdorf, the brewer, for the murder of the prohibition advocate, Rev. George C. Haddock, was developed today in court yesterday.

Ex-Superintendent of Water Works Robson testified that Arensdorf left Junk's saloon in company with the other defendants and that he saw him go west with the same party to the scene of the murder. He watched them going in that direction for over one hundred feet. The cross-examination did not break the force of the direct testimony. In the former trial Arensdorf sought to establish an alibi by testimony that he came out of Junk's and went east from the scene of the murder.

Only three witnesses were examined in the Arensdorf murder case yesterday, Alderman Grady, John Robson, and Albert Koschniski, alias "Bismarck." Bismarck, who turned state's evidence, testified as an eye-witness to the act of murder, charging it positively upon Arensdorf, and he was not shaken by cross-examination. John Robson gave evidence point blank against Arensdorf's alibi, swearing positively that the defendant did not come east, but went west from Junk's saloon on Fourth street.

SPREADING LEPROSY.

High-Handed Outrage by a Philadelphia Physician.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23.—The two unfortunate lepers, Mrs. F. Miranda and her nine-year-old daughter Anita, are now quarantined at the Municipal hospital. It is alleged that Mrs. Miranda was advised to keep the secret of her disease by Dr. Van Harrington, and it is also said several prominent physicians were consulted, and the treatment of the lepers begun.

During all this time they were stopping with Mr. Miranda's widowed sister, Mrs.
Nierson, at Twenty-fourth and Wright streets. Mrs. Nierson occupied the same sleeping apartments as the unfortunate leper. When she learned that her sister was being treated by a physician she inquired what her ailment was, but Mrs. Miranda merely replied: "Only a skin disease." Mrs. Nierson learned that Dr. Van Harrington was her sister's physician, and she visited him, but he refused to tell her what ailed his patient. With her secret buried in her bosom Mrs. Miranda continued to live at Mrs. Nierson's home, while Anita, who is also covered with the marks of leprosy, attended school and played with the school children.

At 11 o'clock yesterday morning Mrs.
Nierson and a friend visited the health office. They were closely questioned by Dr.
J. Howard Taylor, the medical inspector, as to the relationship existing between herself and Mrs. Miranda, and the nature of the latter's disease. Mrs. Nierson was very much exercised for fear the disease might be contagious, and asked if Dr. Van Harrington was not responsible for his conduct.

"I think it was a high-handed outrage," said Health Officer Patterson.
Mrs. Nierson waited permission to see her sister at once, but was informed by the health board that it would be impossible to grant her request.

It seems to be the opinion that the board of health will send the lepers either to a settlement for lepers in Louisiana or Canada, and that action will be taken by that body at its next meeting.

A Michigan Romanesque.

DETROIT, Nov. 23.—A romantic case is developed at Grand Rapids to-day. James Howard, of Bangor, Me., was brought west last night and will be tried in the United States court to-day for opening letters addressed to his wife, from whom he separated twenty-five years ago. Howard married Miss Boynton, of Ovid, Mich., removed to Detroit, and in three years Howard disappeared. He was supposed to be drowned.
Howard went to Bangor, married, separated from his wife and married a wealthy woman seventy-nine years old. She died, leaving him a fortune. By some means he received letters intended for his Michigan wife. He was apprehended and brought back. He has sons by different women living in Indiana, Michigan, Maine and New York.

Terrible Gas Explosion.

BOSTON, Nov. 23.—A tremendous explosion of gas occurred this afternoon in Cin-cinnaham & Company's bicycle rooms in the Old Fellows' building. Five persons were hurt, two of them, it is said, fatally. Two gentlemen who were in the rooms at the time of the explosion were hurled violently against the wall, and were picked up stunned and bleeding. The glass was blown across the street and three ladies who were passing the store were badly cut. Many others received slight scratches. The injured men were carried to the hospital. The cause of the explosion is not known.

Hand-Ball Game Postponed.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—The International hand-ball game between ex-Alderman Paul Casey, of Brooklyn, and John Lawlor, of Dublin, Ireland, which was to have been played to-day at Sweeney's court, in this city, was postponed until next Tuesday, when it will be played in Casey's court, in Brooklyn. Sweeney's court was too small for the number of persons desiring to be present. In order to satisfy those present, the rival champions began a series of exhibition games.

Gobbled by the Standard People.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 23.—Logan, Emery & Weaver's oil refinery at Greenwich Point has been sold to the Standard Oil company.
The price paid was about $300,000. Senator Emery, one of the partners, has been a bitter opponent of the Standard, and was a leading advocate of the Billmeyer bill in the legislature last winter. The sale of the works indicates that he has given up the battle. In an interview yesterday he said:
"I have found at last that the Standard is too strong for us."

Effect of Sunday's Storm.

HAULT ST. MARIE, Mich., Nov. 23.—The steam barge Yakima, which stranded Sunday night, was released after lightering one hundred tons of merchandise. The propeller Cubalia lies in a precarious condition. Her bulkhead compartment, forward of the cargo is full of water. Her pumps keep her water bottom free within three inches from the floor. As yet no part of her cargo of 50,000 bushels of wheat is damaged. A tug, lighter, pump and diver have gone to her assistance.

Shipping Stoves to Germany.

READING, Pa., Nov. 23.—The first shipment of stoves from this city to Germany was made yesterday, a large consignment having left the Reading stove works. These stoves will be forwarded from New York on one of the steamers of the North German Lloyd line to Berlin, Prussia, where an agency has been established. The stove foundries of this city were never so busy, and the employees are working full time in all departments.

Big Hunt by a Pickpocket.

TUSCULA, Ill., Nov. 23.—James Martin, a well known farmer of Northern Cole county, while returning on the train from Chicago, where he had been with four carloads of cattle, was robbed of $1,325 in money by an unknown person. The money belonged to a neighbor, for whom he had taken the cattle to the market.

To Pray for the Pope.

MONTREAL, Nov. 23.—Archbishop Fabre has issued a mandement asking all Roman Catholics in the city to offer prayers for the restoration of the pope's temporal power, when all evil will disappear, and appointing Christmas as a special day for the offering of prayers in honor of the pope's jubilee.

A Sale of O. H. & D. in New York.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—At the real estate exchange yesterday 1,000 shares of Cin-cinnaham & Dayton preferred stock, par value $100, were sold at auction at an average price of 5 percent. George W.
Cully was the purchaser.

Moses Wilder's Gift to Charity.

BOSTON, Nov. 23.—The will of the late Moses Wilder, of Cambridge, bequeaths $150,000 to charitable institutions upon the death of Mrs. Wilder, who receives its income during her life.

Rumors of a Railroad Accident.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 23.—The Milwaukee & St. Paul train was five hours late at Winooski, and rumors are about that a serious accident has happened to it.

DISSATISFIED KNIGHTS.

FIRST MEETING OF THE "KNIGHTLY KICKERS" IN CHICAGO.

A Convention Called and an Effort Will Be Made to Freeze Out General Master Workman Powderly — A Number of Other Discontented Laborers.

CHICAGO, Ill., Nov. 23.—The so-called "Knights Kickers" held their first local meeting last night, with an attendance of about fifty. Regularly elected delegates were present from five local assemblies, and self-constituted representatives from twenty more.

Charles Sab, secretary of the provisional committees appointed by the thirty-five se-ceding delegates of the Minneapolis general convention of the Knights of Labor, obligated as chairman and explained the object of the meeting. There were several present who were in accord with the movement, and they were utterly impervious to all insultations that were not wanted. In a speech, Joseph S. Buchanan, "the head kicker," declared that the time had come when honest Knights of Labor must, for a time at least, renounce all allegiance with the corrupt ring that now controls the order.
He stated that it had been impossible to maintain an effective light from the inside and that the only course left was to declare an open revolt against the powers that be.

After the usual number of speeches, a committee of five was appointed to draft a circular letter to all the local assemblies in Cook county, calling upon them to elect three delegates to a convention to be held the first Wednesday in December.

The local will be asked to withdraw from the general treasury all assessments due from the time the seceding being to "freeze out" General Master Workman Powderly.

"Conventions similar to the one called in Chicago," declared Charles Sab, "will be held all over the United States. We shall maintain control of the Knights of Labor in all the large cities in 10 or 12 months.
As soon as possible a National convention will be called and a regular organization perfected."

Determined on Eight Hours.

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Nov. 23.—The Knights of Labor, of Indianapolis, have determined to renew their fight for an eight hour day in all branches of labor, and committees have been appointed to promote the movement not only among employers, but to urge Indiana members of congress to give it their support by using their influence toward requiring that all government contracts shall be let on a basis of eight hour labor.

Parents Guilty of a Double Crime.

CORR. N. Y., Nov. 23.—State Factory Inspector Hooley has for sometime been investigating the matter of the employment of children out of proper age in the cotton mills. According to law the affidavits of the parents of the children are on file in the office of the inspector. Mr. Hooley will have the police serve fifty warrants charging parents with perjury.

Cigarmakers' Strike Settled.

NORRISTOWN, Pa., Nov. 23.—The strike at W. K. Gresh & Son's cigar manufactory has been adjusted and the hands returned to work yesterday. The matter was compromised on an advance of 10 per cent. The hands demanded an increase of about 30 per cent.

No Reduction Ordered.

WOONSOCKET, R. I., Nov. 23.—President Coleidge, of the Para Rubber company, declines the report that a reduction of wages has been ordered by that company.

DEATH OF EPH. HOLLAND.

The King of Gamblers, and Well Known Politician, Dies in Cincinnati.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 23.—Ephraim Holland is dead. To many this information will fall like a clap of thunder from a clear sky.
Eph. for many years was the recognized king in the sporting fraternity of the west, and made Cincinnati the gambler's paradise. His reign only ended a few years ago, when the law taboed the profession. Eph.
Holland's reputation was National. The shock of his death will be felt from Boston to the Pacific slope. He died last evening at his home, 235 East Sixth street, after only a few days' illness. The indirect cause of his death was a pistol ball wound in the thigh, received in a quarrel with Marshal Wooden, also a gambler, seven years ago.
Eph. was the son of Montgomery Holland, who forty years ago was a counsellor in this city, and later lieutenant of police.

He was brought up on East Sixth street, under what is now the shadow of Russell-Morgan's playing card factory. He began his sporting career in the fifties. He was connected with every prize fight of any importance that ever came off in the west, and arranged the Goss-Allen and McCool-Aaron Jones fight. He established the Empire at 101 West Fifth street, the largest gambling house ever run in this country. Politics was Eph's diversion, and during the Hayes-Tilden campaign he was especially prominent, and was convicted of some irregularities and sentenced to one year in jail, but was pardoned by President Hayes. Holland won at one sitting in New York, years ago, $20,000. His widow is left in easy circumstances.

Brothers Quarrel About a Girl.

GREENSBORO, Ind., Nov. 23.—Joseph Owens, aged twenty-four, was found dead in his bed at 4 o'clock this morning with marks of violence upon his person. Bad feeling is known to have existed between himself and his brother Theodore. Saturday night they quarreled over a girl, and Joe received a dangerous wound on his head, which is thought to have caused his death.
A post-mortem examination is being held to determine the cause of his death, so that the matter may be taken before the grand jury if it is a case of murder.

Famously Killed by a Colt.

POMEROY, O., Nov. 23.—Sylvester Hoyt, a farmer living in Chester township, was killed by a colt belonging to John Kimes.
Kimes had hitched the colt, and Hoyt attempted to go behind it, when it kicked him in the pit of the stomach with both feet.
He died shortly afterward. He was about forty-five years old, married, but had no children.

DESTRUCTIVE FOREST FIRES.

Illinois, Missouri, Arkansas, Texas and the Far West Visited.

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 23.—This city is much exposed by the forest fires. News from Arkansas, Texas and as far west as Fort Worth, a distance of nearly eight hundred miles, indicate no abatement of the fires.
In sections remote from telegraph and railway stations it is feared that terrible loss to human and animal life has occurred. Southwest Missouri timber regions are all ablaze.
No fog was ever denser than the smoke in St. Louis last night. It was impossible to discern objects a block away. This indicates rapid spread of the flames in the back country woods. Many people here are sick from the effects of the smoke and every body complains of eye, throat and nose ache. The loss to property in the southwest as far as heard from is estimated at $500,000.

From Anna, Illinois.

ANNA, Ill., Nov. 23.—The forest fires are still raging in all parts of this and surrounding counties. The high wind of Saturday scattered them over a much larger territory than formerly, and it is almost impossible to check them. Several farm buildings in the Mississippi bottoms have burned, among them one belonging to M. V. Evans, of this city. The residence of A. C. Musgrave, a farmer living east of town, was destroyed last night together with all its contents.
Briggs, telegraph poles on the lines of both the Illinois Central and Mobile & Ohio railroad have burned, and delayed traffic considerably. No rain of any consequence has fallen here for five months.

From Mowqua, Illinois.

MOWQUA, Ill., Nov. 23.—This city was enveloped in smoke all of yesterday, and the sun could be gazed at with the naked eye. It had a liquid red appearance and formed a singular phenomenon. The smoke has been so dense as to effect breathing and eyesight. This dense cloud of smoke is coming from the Oak Grove bottom, where hundreds of acres of timber are on fire. On account of the extreme drought it cannot be checked. It can be seen burning several miles away. It is destroying much property.

From Cairo, Ill.

CAIRO, Ill., Nov. 23.—The woods are on fire for a radius of fifty miles in every direction from this place, but no damage beyond a few fences and little unharmed corn burnt. Report of hunters being surrounded by fire in Nigger Wood Swamp has no foundation. The smoke from burning forest is very dense, and interrupts navigation on the river to a great extent.

From Crawfordville, Indiana.

CRAWFORDVILLE, Ind., Nov. 23.—The heating factory at Veederburg, sixteen miles west of here, was burned last night. It belonged to Henry Alfrey, of this town, who places his loss at $50,000, on which there was no insurance.

From Little Rock, Arkansas.

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 23.—The report that valuable tracts of timber, owned by L. C. Black and other Cincinnati capitalists in Southern Arkansas, are burning, is unfounded.

Ohio's Vote.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 23.—At last the official vote of the state is in. The total vote cast in 1885 was 733,996. In 1886 it was 704,233.
This year the total vote reached the very large figure of 744,568, which is a large increase. The totals on the state ticket are as follows: Foraker, Republican, 356,987; Powell, Democrat, 333,345; Seitz, Labor, 24,712; S. C. P., Prohibitionist, 3,760; seceding, 14. Total 744,568. Foraker over Powell, 23,733. This is a slight increase for the Prohibitionists over '85, when Leonard had 23,081. This information comes officially, and ought to settle bets on the general result. The chances are that Lyon will run ahead several thousand votes.

How Did He Open the Door.

FREEPORT, Ill., Nov. 23.—Yesterday morning, as the janitor of the Embury Methodist Episcopal church was cleaning the walk in front of the church, he found a dynamite bomb so placed that had he opened the door, as usual, it would have been precipitated down a number of stone steps and probably exploded. It was about six inches long, made of inch gas pipe, and the ends solidly plugged with brass. There were six caps so placed that if the infernal machine fell in any way it was certain to strike upon one of them. The discovery caused a great deal of excitement, and the police are now investigating the matter. A test of the bomb will be made.

A Heavy Damage Suit.

WICHITA, Kan., Nov. 23.—A heavy damage suit has been brought in this county by Friend against Miller, wherein the plaintiff claims $100,000 for false imprisonment and malicious prosecution. Both are very wealthy citizens. Through Miller, Friend was recently tried before the tribunal of Salt Lake city for forgery the name of Thomas Murphy, a priest of Wisconsin, to deeds conveying the title to valuable property in this city. The jury failed to agree upon a verdict, and Friend, upon the conclusion of the trial, brought this suit.

Notes for National Delegates.

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—The round trip rates for the National conventions of the various political parties, no matter where held, will be fixed at the meeting of the Western States passenger association, which opened here this morning, with Commissioner John N. Abbott in the chair. Thirteen other important matters are underlined for consideration, including the question of rates to southern points, and the meeting is likely to continue for several days.

Roasted to Death.

STREUBENVILLE, O., Nov. 23.—Frank P.
Perry, of Buffalo, N. Y., who had been tramping over the country, went to the Riverside iron works and laid down by the furnace and went to sleep. Yesterday morning his dead body was found almost roasted. It is supposed the gas suffocated him, and in his writhings he rolled almost into the furnace. His identity was known by letters found on his person.

Knott May Not Know.

NEW YORK, Nov. 23.—A Washington special quotes Assistant Postmaster General Knott as saying that he is convinced that the government will establish a system of postal telegraphy within three years.

IN ANSWER TO A SONNET.

A fair ideal you show me that I deem Most worthy in a poet's heart to rise, As I have loved in the summer skies; Reflected in your soul as in a stream, You show me mine own image like a dream Of sweet, inspiring beauty, with serene And tender, that with steadfast eyes The ideal of fair friendliness would seem.

Oh! where a sharper pang than thus to see Myself, high imaged in another's heart;
To see and feel with hot reproachful tears That thus I might have seen, thus should I be!
Thus will I be, nor shall that dream depart Save as the moon retreats when the day appears.
—From "The Heart of the Weed."

RESTAURANTS IN THE SKIES.

Eating a Meal Above the Clouds of Trinity Church—The Cheap Lunch Rooms.

The latest wrinkle is to get a view with your dinner—a natural chromo, so to speak. For this purpose restaurants have been opened on the eleventh floors of the Field building at the Battery and the Mills building near the stock exchange. You are lifted to these places with little difficulty than you descend to the cellar of the oyster saloon near the stock exchange where you are sometimes invited to lunch because "they make the best cocktails down town." Up above the chimneys of Trinity church, almost on the roofs of the two cloud piercing buildings, you find very stylish restaurants and French waiters, and enjoy the felicity of staring at Bartholdi's statue with your soup, Staten Island with your fish, the mouth of the Hudson river with your toast, and Brooklyn heights with your dessert. When we tire of the view we go to one of two or three macaroni places on the Bowling Green, to Fulton market for oysters, to John street for chops and ale, in places glossy with mahogany and crowded with oil paintings; or we go one block higher to a wine importer's to get escargots (French for snails), of which we are growing very fond. We get them also from Delmonico, who has three places down town for those who like to say they get there, at the office price.

In the meantime the office boys, porters and younger clerks are enjoying an equal variety of luncheons provided by people who seem engaged in a laudable effort to see who can give the most for ten cents. Chatham street has the four cheapest restaurants in town, named after Bill Tweed, Jim Fisk, Grover Cleveland and Mr. Gladstone, where beef, potatoes, bread and coffee cost that sum. The dairies give bread and milk, pie and milk, or grain and milk in bowls for a dime, and there are a dozen queer and sloppy places where you see crowds of men and a bold display of milk cans on the floor, and cakes, cream puffs, chocolate eclairs and French sugar pastry in a hundred forms on the counters, each cake being three times as large as you will see anywhere else in town. These are the beereries, where they sell beer and teams, two eggs, pie and coffee or crullers and milk for ten cents.

Finally, there is no end of French and German places where "regular dinners" are served for from fifteen to fifty cents, the newest of all bending the record with a picture of a three masted schooner of beer, over the words: "This size free with our dinner, fifteen cents."—Julian Ralph in Pioneer Press.

Early Bird and the Worm.

It was not quite five o'clock in the morning. The sun had not yet begun to transact his daily business when a newspaper man, who loves early dew, robins, and other things, took a stroll through Central park. Only two persons from the Fifty-ninth street entrance to the mall disturbed the monotonous clatter of the birds.

A few feet from the music stand was an elderly gentleman with a revolutionary coat and frayed trousers. He carried a cane and wore a restless pair of eyes.

"Out early, my friend," said the reporter, in an off hand style of salute.

"Got to begin my business," said the wiry old fossil.

"And what may be the peculiar nature of your business?"

"Well, you see, pard, I'm a professional searcher. I clunge with the seasons, just like bonnets and other parts of woman's gear. I'm on hand the first fellow after a big crowd to pick up the crumbs. What's crumby? Why, whatever they drop; knick knacks, jewelry, money. All's fish as comes to my net. Beats the world how much a smart scavenger can pick up after a mob. In the winter time I work the fairs and the opera and swell private entertainments, on the outside, after the whole thing is over, and just as soon as it's light and in the summer I work the parks and picnics and excursions.

"Regular business, though, and you've got to have system in it. Big crowd yesterday (Sunday) on the mall, and here I am. Been here since daybreak, nosing around, and picked up so far $3.25 in change and a bracelet. Get in my work before the cops come around. Early bird and the worm, see?"

"What do you do with the valuables, say jewelry?"

"Watch the 'lost' columns of the papers, and if the reward's half way decent I turn 'em in. Got $50 last winter for an earring dropped in the gutter in front of the Metropolitan Opera house. When there's no show of an owner I convert 'em on the Bowery. Took in a lot of lace handkerchiefs last winter and a fair stake in cash. But you've got to have eyes to get along in this profession, partner."

"Can you manage to make a living at it?"

"Well, it ain't no national bank, but I've stood off the wolf for five years at it, and the hours ain't so hard as you find in some other professions."—New York Sun.

He Grasped the Situation.

The story is going the rounds that a young lady visited a west end jeweler and told him that her father was going to buy her a pair of diamond earrings, and that she would like to look at some. The jeweler, knowing her father by reputation, spread out a number of costly gems before her. She looked them over critically, and, having selected the most handsome pair, asked if she might take them home and examine them at her leisure. The permission was promptly accorded, and the next day the young lady brought back the earrings and said that she was not quite satisfied with them, and she thought that after all it might be some time before her father would indulge her taste for diamonds. "That's a great pity," replied the jeweler; "I was at the reception last night, and I thought them very becoming to you."—Figaro.

A Philadelphia Sign.

A Philadelphia barber displays a sign which announces that he is "promote or of facial decorating saloon, tuncorl artist, physiognomical hair dresser and facial operator, cranium manipulator and capillary abridger."—New York Sun.

Remarkable Escape From Death.

NAPOLKON, O., Nov. 23.—Yesterday morning a boy seventeen years old, son of G. W. Ostrander, while adjusting a belt on a plager in Dewey & Co's stove mill, at Eary, this county, was caught by the belt and whirled over the shafting several times before the machinery could be stopped. He passed through a space of less than a foot every time he revolved, and when he was released it was supposed every bone in his body was broken. His clothing was torn into shreds, and he was covered with blood. Physicians were summoned and found that the young man had escaped with a cracked skull and broken leg, besides numerous flesh wounds, and they give it as their opinion that he will recover.

Oil Fire in Findlay.

FINDLAY, O., Nov. 23.—The oil well known as "Infirmary No. 1," situated about three miles west of this city, caught fire yesterday afternoon and is yet burning, with great danger to all the surrounding country. All the frame buildings in the vicinity have been destroyed and the fire has just begun on four 30,000 barrel tanks of oil. The well and tanks are the property of Duke & Meyers, of this city, whose loss will not be less than $15,000, upon which there is no insurance.

Charged With Concealing Dynamite.—LONDON, Nov. 23.—Callanan and Harkins are charged with concealing dynamite in the former's lodgings, as the substance found is pronounced to be that explosive. The evidence against the man was solely in the form of Superintendent Williamson's statement that there were no witnesses against them. The prisoners were remanded. Callanan is a stocking piecer of Lowell, Mass., and Harkins' American address is 1839 North Second street, Philadelphia.

Killed His Son.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 21.—P. A. Stout, a prominent designer and decorator, of Allegheny, shot and instantly killed Adolph, his twenty-year-old son, at their home last night. Stout declares that he intended to kill himself, and that the shooting of the boy was accidental. Members of the family assert that it was intentional. Stout has not lived happily with his wife.

Not a Soul Saved.

CHICAGO, Nov. 23.—An unknown two-masted schooner is sunk in forty feet of water one mile and a half abreast of Kenosha, and fears are entertained that not a soul was saved of her crew. Judging from the size of the vessel it is probable that not less than five men manned her when she foundered.

Seven Horses Burned to Death.

BROCKTON, Mass., Nov. 23.—At Bridge-water last night, the stable of C. W. Copeland was totally destroyed by an incendiary fire. Seven horses were burned to death. This is the fifth incendiary set to Mr. Copeland's property within two years. The loss will probably reach $5,000.

Passenger Train Wrecked.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 23.—The passenger train which left here at 1:40 a. m., ran into a freight standing on a side track at Ixonia, about thirty miles from this city. The engine and eight cars were ditched, but no one was hurt, and the road was clear again at 8:30 a. m.

Students Apologize.

MADISON, Wis., Nov. 23.—The twenty students who were arrested for hazing young Rosenstengel have apologized to Professor Rosenstengel, for "transgressing the peace of his household," and this seems to be satisfactory to all concerned. There will be no expulsions.

In the First Degree.

BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 23.—Frank Curcio, who killed Frank Marino, on the night of August 3, was this morning found guilty of manslaughter in the first degree. Sentence will be pronounced Friday.

Nothing Left Over.

An apparent surplus at evening entertainments is reckoned among the vulgar things of the life. The time has come by when we must start our guests. No dish is liked, and simplicity of menu and service is the charm of elegant hospitality.—Chicago Herald.

The occasional washing of the hands with soap and warm water, in tepid water, to keep them cool and smooth, and the occasional use of lemon juice as an excellent remedy at night.

Some fashionable women in Philadelphia have the backs and seats of bedroom chairs upholstered with silk and lined with broken balloon boules, which give fragrance for the whole season.

An English physician recommends foot-bath for girls. It is said to be an exhilarating game and would prove highly beneficial to young ladies who are apt to be morbid or hysterical.

Meat juice and the scrapings of raw beef are sometimes given to sickly children. The eggs of tapeworms might in that way find entrance into the intestines.

Never use a sharp knife in cleaning the nails. Fill under the nails with soap, and then remove it by brushing with a nail-brush.

Women are henceforth to be admitted to the competitions of drawing and modeling in the Paris School of Decorative Art.

Canned tomatoes should be kept where it is dark and dry. Light injures them.

Do not make jelly in damp or cloudy weather.

FRENCH COMPLICATIONS.

M. CLEMENCEAU CALLED ON TO FORM A CABINET.

He Declines the Offer and Gives His Reasons for So Doing—The Great Question of France—Germany and Russia Will Not Fight Over Bulgaria—Foreign.

PARIS, Nov. 23.—M. Clemenceau had a long conference with President Grevy this morning, lasting three hours. It was after the conversations he had yesterday with the former president's of the council and the president's of the two chambers that M. Grevy decided to send for M. Clemenceau as leader of the opposition in the chamber of deputies. M. Grevy asked M. Clemenceau to undertake the formation of a cabinet, adding that he gave him every latitude in the choice of his colleagues. M. Clemenceau, while thanking M. Grevy for having thought of him for the presidency of the council, declined the offer.

He said that he did not shrink from the responsibilities of power, for he was convinced that there was a reform majority in the chamber of deputies. "At another time," said M. Clemenceau, "I would have accepted your offer, Mr. President, but today it is no longer a question of forming a cabinet that we have to solve; we must solve the question of the presidency of the republic. That is why I am obliged to decline your offer." M. Grevy then asked M. Clemenceau whether he would be disposed not to oppose a cabinet, of which the chief leader of the extreme left should himself designate the head. M. Clemenceau likewise refused to agree to any such arrangement giving the same reasons as those that had caused him to decline the presidency of the council of ministers.

A long conversation between M. Grevy and M. Clemenceau followed; at times it became pathetic. While doing justice to the indubitable devotion of President Grevy to the republic, and acknowledging himself profoundly touched by the old Republican's sincerity, Clemenceau remained inexorable. He declared to Grevy that in resigning he could render a last service to the republic which had suffered from the attack made on the prestige of its president. M. Grevy gave his inquirer to understand that his refusal to resign was not a settled determination, and that he was willing to discuss the presidential question in a conference, to include besides M. Clemenceau, M. Floquet, Dr. Freyinet and Goblet. This conference took place in the evening and was very animated.

Notwithstanding the fact of all present having pledged themselves to absolute secrecy, it leaked out that M. Clemenceau had again insisted on the necessity of M. Grevy's handing in his resignation.

After consulting those present M. Grevy promised to make known his answer on the morrow. He gave them to understand that his resignation was probable, but that he would prefer in that case to oblige his own time, and not appear to yield to the pressure of public opinion.

Germany and Russia Will Not Fight. BERLIN, Nov. 23.—The North German Gazette, the official organ of Prince Bismarck, in its issue of today, states that the interview recently had by Prince Bismarck with the czar was of a most friendly and comprehensive character. The czar complained that the policy of Germany, especially that pursued with regard to Bulgaria, which he declared was directed against Russia's interests and which letters received at the Russian foreign office conclusively showed.

Prince Bismarck, in reply to this declaration of the czar, indicated that Germany always regarded Bulgaria as lying within the sphere of Russian interests and acted in this spirit wherever no strictly German interests were involved. Prince Bismarck also expressed a desire to see the letters mentioned, and formulated at length Germany's complaints against Russia. The czar was very attentive during Prince Bismarck's recital and promised on his return to St. Petersburg to better inform himself on the matters discussed and arrive at decisions accordingly.

New Yorkers Fighting in London. LONDON, Nov. 23.—Dan Doherty, of New York, shot Col. George M. Graham, of Rochester, N. Y., last night, inflicting a probably fatal wound. Doherty is under arrest. The shooting grew out of a discussion over a gambling debt. Graham, it is said, told Doherty that a certain sum won from Doherty by a Mr. Howard, of New York, ought to be paid, as it was a debt of honor. Doherty had refused to pay it on the ground that the play was not fair. He became angry at Graham's remark and shot him.

President Cleveland to Be Sued. SCRANTON, Pa., Nov. 23.—The name of Grover Cleveland, president of the United States, appears in a list of delinquents published in the city papers today for neglecting to pay an assessment for street paving. A few years ago the government purchased a lot fronting on one of the handsomest avenues in the city. On this lot a postoffice building will be erected. A year ago the avenue was paved with sheet asphalt, and all efforts to have the government pay its share of the cost have been fruitless. The amount due is $1,349.24. If it is not paid before Friday next a lien will be entered at the prothonotary office, and processes will be issued thereon within ten days thereafter.

Lake Vessel on the Rocks. MILWAUKEE, Wis., Nov. 23.—Last evening the propeller Waverly ran onto the rocks in Whitefish bay. The weather was hazy, and her captain mistook a light at Whitefish bay for North Point Light, and supposed he was heading into Milwaukee bay. There is three feet of water in her hold, and her large cargo of merchandise is more or less damaged. Tugs and the life saving crew have gone to her assistance. There is no danger as long as the cold weather continues. The Waverly carries a crew of twenty-two men, and is valued at $20,000.

Gas and Coal. PRINCETON, Ind., Nov. 23.—Princeton is happy over the discovery of a good flow of natural gas at a depth of 618 feet. The drill also developed three veins of fine black coal at a depth of 400, 500 and 600 feet respectively.

Mr. King to Resign. BALTIMORE, Nov. 23.—It comes from an authoritative source that Mr. Thomas M. King, second vice president of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad company, will resign the latter part of this week.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

Topics of the Times Given in a terse and spicy manner.

THE BEE HIVE.

During the whole of last week we advertised in extra large space, for the benefit of the people, the extremely low prices at which we are selling our goods.

We are convinced that the public appreciated the bargains we offered, for our stores were thronged and crowded during the entire week, and the people found that we had in stock everything exactly as advertised, and all—rich or poor—received the same courteous treatment, and fair, honest dealing.

We shall, for the next few weeks, continue this great sacrifice sale, because our stock is too large. We have too many goods and we need money.

Then, again, we are daily receiving invoices of Christmas Goods, some right new Novel ties in Brigue Figures, Fancy Plush Boxes, &c., &c. Now we must make room for these, and therefore this great sacrifice sale will be continued for a few weeks more. Come at once and look for yourselves.

We have made an especial big cut in prices of Cloaks and Jackets. Our $3.50 Jacket marked down to $2.15; our $5 Jacket to $3.75; Children's Cloaks from 50 cents up. Whoever needs anything in

Dry Goods and Notions, should call on us, as we will guarantee to save you 50 per cent. on anything you want to purchase, and surely in times like these it is desirable to save money.
